

Heather Wyatt is suing the Ocean Springs School District, alleging that daughter Aubreigh Wyatt was bullied for four years, in and out of school, leading to her death by suicide at age 15.

Wyatt has filed a lawsuit in Jackson County where she is seeking an unspecified monetary damage over Aubreigh's suicide on Sept. 4, 2023. Her death, the lawsuit says, has caused her family "immense pain, suffering and loss of companionship."

heather_wyatt715 • Follow

Original audio

heather_wyatt715

I will continue this fight for Aubreigh. I. Will. Not. Stop.

My daughter's death will NOT be in vain. The pain and suffering she endured will be acknowledged. Her story will be heard. Her light will never be dimmed.

When I was silenced last year, THOUSANDS of you stood up. You spoke out when I couldn't. You became my voice when mine was taken. You fought for me and my baby when I was drowning in grief and not allowed to publicly share for awhile, And because of YOU, I have my platform back, my voice back, and the strength to keep going.

In addition, so many of you helped financially. Your generosity gave me the ability to immediately fight back and

23,480 likes

February 10

Log in to like or comment.

More posts from heather_wyatt715

https://www.instagram.com/reel/DF5eiDxpTXN/?utm_source=ig_web_copy_link&igsh=MzRIODBiNWFIZA%3D%3D

1/3

The school district has not yet had time to respond to the lawsuit, filed Friday. School Superintendent Michael Lindsey has previously said the school takes all reports of bullying seriously and has policies, as required by state law, to address bullying and harassment, and to punish offenders. He has said district officials can't discuss disciplinary action taken against individual students.

 heather_wyatt715  • Follow

Original audio

YOU, I have my platform back, my voice back, and the strength to keep going.

In addition, so many of you helped financially. Your generosity gave me the ability to immediately fight back and reclaim my voice. It didn't stop there—your continued support has provided the means to truly fight for my baby, to push forward with purpose and passion. To legally fight this! I am beyond thankful for the encouragement, love, and belief you've poured into this mission.

I'm so excited to finally start sharing and showing just how impactful the GoFundMe has been. You all have helped make this happen! My heart is overwhelmed with gratitude.

And guess what? There's still more to come.

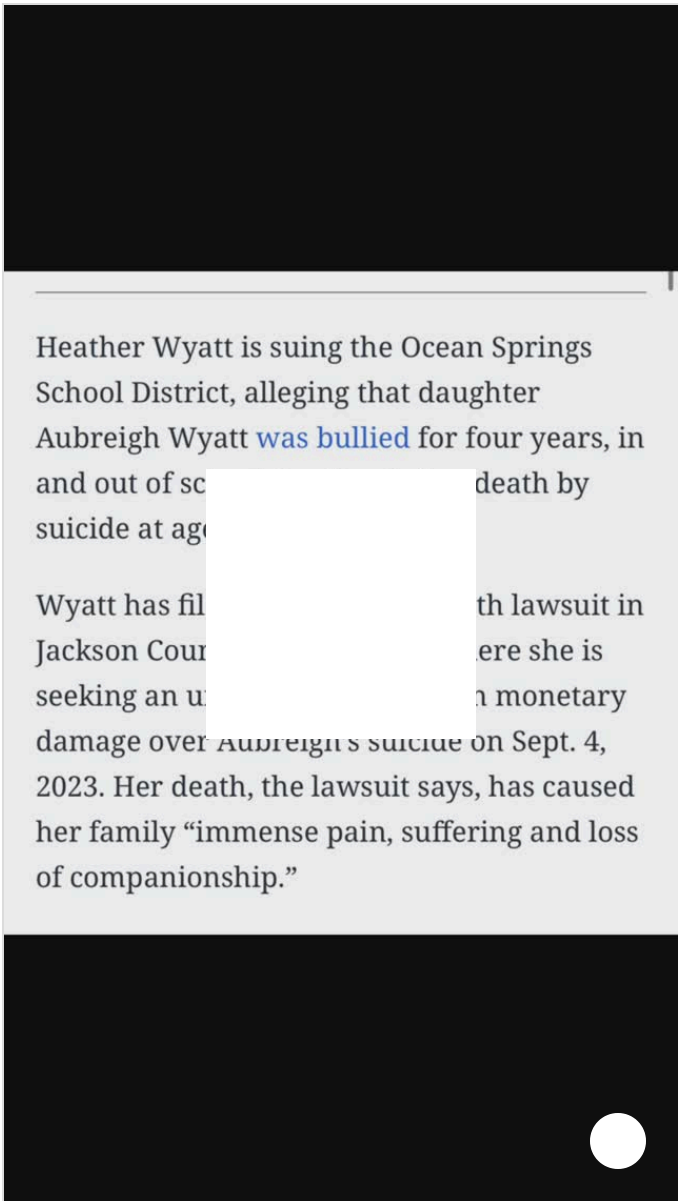

23,480 likes

February 10

Log in to like or comment.

More posts from heather_wyatt715

Heather Wyatt is suing the Ocean Springs School District, alleging that daughter Aubreigh Wyatt was bullied for four years, in and out of school, leading to her death by suicide at age 17.

Wyatt has filed a lawsuit in Jackson County where she is seeking an unspecified monetary damage over Aubreigh's suicide on Sept. 4, 2023. Her death, the lawsuit says, has caused her family "immense pain, suffering and loss of companionship."

heather_wyatt715 • Follow

Original audio

helped make this happen! My heart is overwhelmed with gratitude.

And guess what? There's still more to come.

Thank you doesn't feel like enough, but please know that every single contribution is not just helping to create change—it's fighting for justice for Aubreigh.

Her story is far from over. And neither is this fight. We're just getting started.

Change doesn't come from silence. It doesn't come from cowering down to make others comfortable. Change is born from facing hard truths, demanding accountability, and standing up for those who can't protect themselves. Growth is uncomfortable, but silence allows the

23,480 likes

February 10

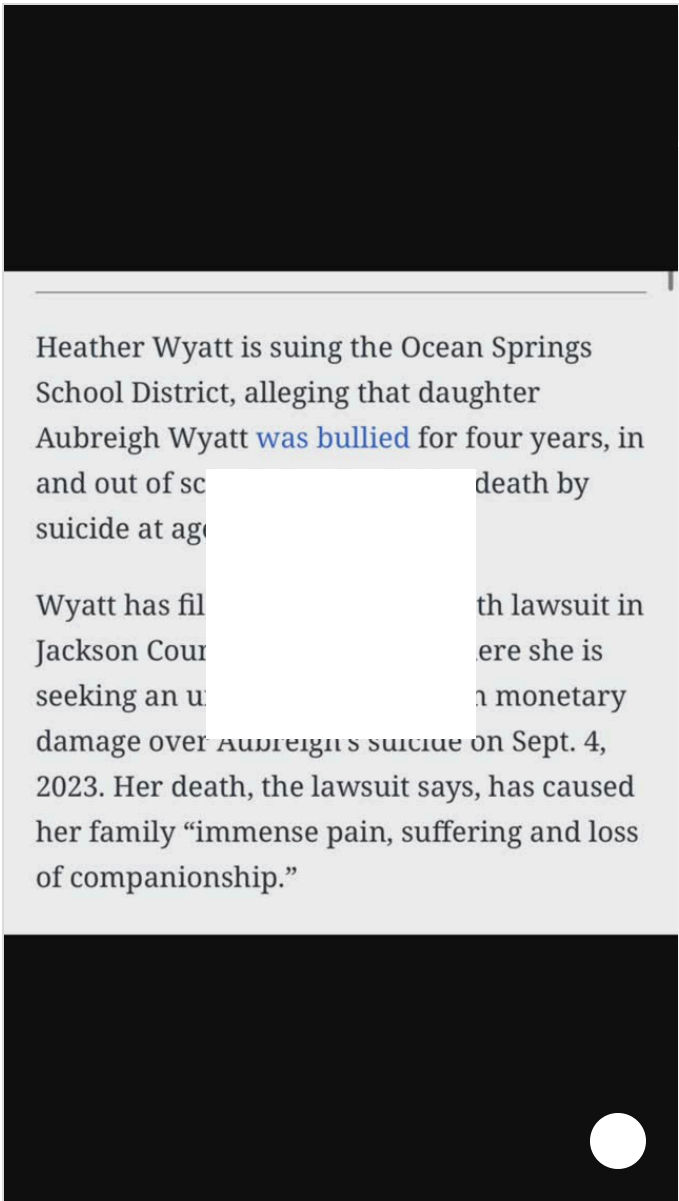

Log in to like or comment.

More posts from heather_wyatt715

Instagram

Log In

Sign Up

heather_wyatt715 • Follow

...

Original audio

Her story is far from over. And neither is this fight. We're just getting started.

Change doesn't come from silence. It doesn't come from covering down to make others comfortable. Change is born from facing hard truths, demanding accountability, and standing up for those who can't protect themselves. Growth is uncomfortable, but silence allows the very things we fear to thrive. I will never be silent, because the cost of silence is far too high.

I've paid the price, and am doing all I can to help others to never have to!

9w

23,480 likes

February 10

Log in to like or comment.

More posts from heather_wyatt715